COLD, HARD TRUTH

If found guilty, Abby could spend as much time behind bars as she has in front of the camera — five years.

Abby Lee Miller's FRAUD CHARGES!

FACING JAIL TIME AND HEFTY FEES, THE OUTSPOKEN DANCE MOMS STAR ISN'T SO TOUGH ANYMORE.

LOSING NUMBERS

ABBY LEE MILLER is famous for getting her way on Lifetime's Dance Moms, but the 50-year-old reality star may have a hard time dancing around a prison sentence (and millions in fines) if she's convicted of 20 counts of fraud. On Oct. 13, the Pittsburgh native was indicted for allegedly hiding more than $755,000 in earnings from her reality series, its three spin-off shows and other related businesses — as well as bankruptcy fraud, concealment of bankruptcy assets and false bankruptcy declarations.

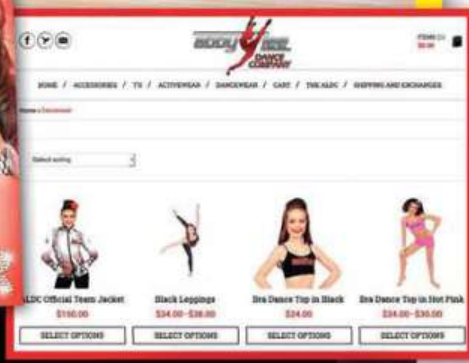

According to legal documents obtained by Star, the domineering dance instructor also created several secret bank accounts to hide her fortune — and even tried to enlist the help of others to do so. "Abby is freaking out. She never thought this could happen to her," dishes a pal. "She acts tough on-air, but in real life, she's as scared as anybody else would be." And for good reason — if convicted, Abby faces five years behind bars and a fine of $250,000 for each count of the indictment.

Interestingly, the federal investigation into the star's income began after the judge in her bankruptcy case was "channel surfing one night" and spotted Abby's Ultimate Dance Competition on television, along with ads claiming "the maniac is back." "I realized that there's an awful lot of money coming into this plan, this case, and it hasn't been disclosed," the judge stated in the court file.

Although Abby has yet to enter a plea (her arraignment has been scheduled for Nov. 5 in Pittsburgh), "she could lose everything," reveals the source. "She's been crying and saying she doesn't want to be the next Teresa Giudice, but that's certainly what it looks like right now." ★

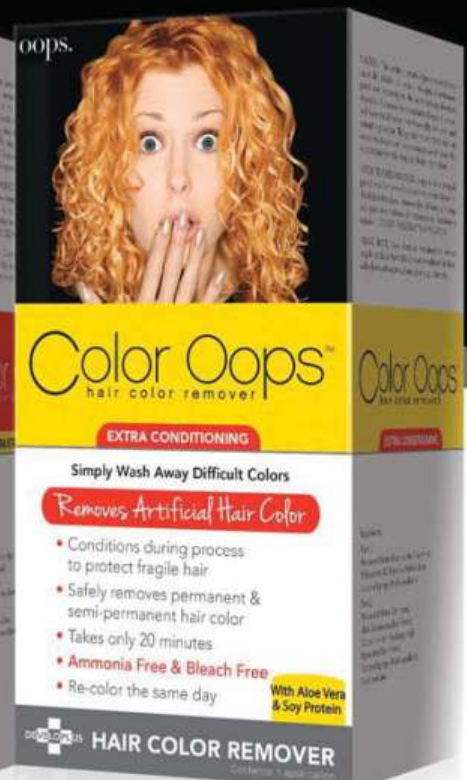

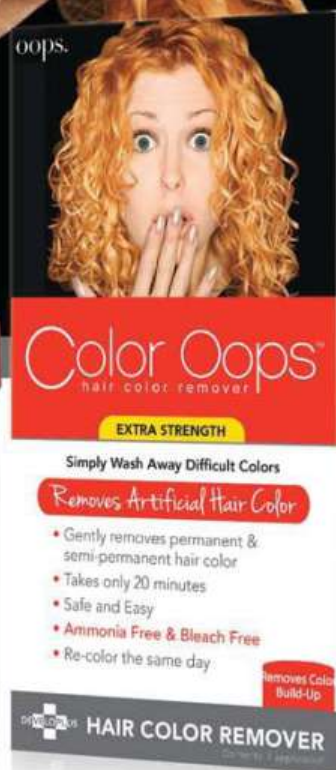

ABBY'S EMPIRE

Since filing for bankruptcy in 2010, Abby has built a small empire that includes TV spin-offs, Masterclass studio sessions and a book deal, plus merchandise and apparel sales. The 34-page indictment accuses her of hiding much of her $2 million net worth.

All the hott... and news!

Are Hayden and her hard-partying alter ego, Juliette Barnes, becoming one and the same?

Mama Drama

HAYDEN

HEADS TO REHAB

LIFE is imitating art for Hayden Panettiere. Despite declaring that motherhood is “fabulous,” the actress, mom of 10-month-old Kaya, revealed that she’s suffering from postpartum depression, just like her Nashville character, Juliette Barnes, and has checked into treatment to get help. But insiders tell Star they worry that her reasons may go beyond baby blues.

“Things are bad at home,” claims a friend. Hayden’s fiancé, boxer Wladimir Klitschko, has been a rock, but relationships are never easy for someone whose father went to jail for abusing her mother. “Work, the baby, being engaged — it’s all so overwhelming.” Although her rep denies it, friends are worried that Hayden could have succumbed to familiar temptations and turned to alcohol.

If it’s true, this wouldn’t be out of character for the 26-year-old. Hayden has admitted that she began drinking at age 8, and she made headlines for allegedly sobbing and drunkenly exposing herself to A-list guests at a party in 2010. Plus she reportedly cheated on her fiancé with her married costar Jay Hernandez — and since she relocated to Nashville, there have been rumors that she’s become a party animal who would rather do shots than change diapers.

While Hayden has admitted to having “suffered a bit” with PPD, she suggested that it was all in the past. “It’s something a lot of women experience,” she revealed. “Women need to know that they’re not alone and that it does heal.” But clearly she hasn’t, especially if depression is masking other issues.

“It’s not at all common for patients who suffer from postpartum depression to check themselves into rehab or receive in-patient hospitalization,” explained Massachusetts licensed marriage and family therapist Dr. Karen Ruskin. “Only when patients show symptoms of severe postpartum — suicidal or homicidal tendencies or thoughts, self-injury — do they get in-house treatment.”

Whatever her malady, friends and family are praying that Hayden returns from rehab happier and healthier. “Everyone is hoping she comes out of this in a much better place,” says a source. “She does want to be a good mother and clearly wants to get help before things get too out of control.” ★

HIS EX, SARA

Cuba Drowning His Sorrows

IT'S

Cuba Gooding Jr. has an Oscar...and not much else. Since his long-suffering wife, Sara Kapfer, ditched him last April after years of cheating rumors, the Jerry McGuire actor has been doing a little wishful drinking. "He comes in here and drinks all day, whining about his wife leaving him," says a local at O'Brien's Irish Pub in Santa Monica, Calif. "He clearly feels incredibly sorry for himself."

But he may be the only one. Cuba allegedly began cheating on Sara — his high school sweetheart and the mother of his three kids — just days after their wedding and was accused of numerous other drunken gropes and torrid affairs. Now his bad behavior has caught up with him. "It's pretty pathetic. He sits there with his hat pulled down over his eyes, staring into his beer and complaining," says the bar patron. "Then he starts hitting on any young pretty blonde he can. He always leads with the fact that he won an Oscar, but no one is impressed." So much for friends in low places! ★

JUST ASKING...

Which sporty actress with a penchant for younger men isn't quite so healthy when it comes to her party habits? "She was really nice, but I was surprised when she dipped into a bathroom stall and began snorting," tattled a fan who encountered our golden girl in the ladies' room at legendary restaurant Dan Tana's in Hollywood. "It was pretty obvious what she was up to." ★

BECKS MISTAKEN FOR RICKY GERVAIS!

You might not think David Beckham and Ricky Gervais are twins in the looks department, but the fitness fanatics at SoulCycle in L.A. beg to differ...and recently mistook the soccer stud for the 54-year-old British comic! "Someone called him Ricky — and when David realized who the person thought he was, he was completely thrown off and got really upset," recalls a Spin enthusiast, while another source states that Father Time is starting to catch up with the 40-year-old former athlete. "David doesn't look like he's been taking care of himself."

Between partying and lots of time in the sun, his appearance is definitely rougher than usual," says the friend. "I'm sure Ricky would love to be mistaken for David, but David didn't see the humor in it." ★

Did he and this Angel do devilish things?

NICK: HOLLYWOOD'S BIGGEST PLAYER?

LOCK UP YOUR DAUGHTERS!

Let's hope Nick Jonas sees the irony in his hit song being titled "Jealous." Since his recent romp with Kate Hudson, he has quickly moved on with a bevy of women. An eyewitness spotted the onetime chaste JoBro "bringing multiple women up to his suite" during his stay at NYC's Greenwich Hotel in early October. "He had different girls in and out each day," says a hotel insider, adding that he may have even bedded Victoria's Secret model Martha Hunt. "She was in the hotel lobby with him at 6 a.m. in a baggy sweatshirt, with bedhead — it was totally a walk-of-shame look!" tattles the witness. Martha is BFFs with Gigi Hadid, who is dating Nick's older brother Joe. But don't expect any double dates. "He's been indulging in women, and he's loving it," dishes an insider to Star. "Kate was just a fling for Nick. The truth is, he's got a list of girls to pursue and isn't planning to settle down anytime soon." No chains for this guy! ★

FALLING STARS

NICOLE: THE NIGHTMARE!

Nicole Kidman's frosty demeanor isn't just an act. Sources who worked with her on the upcoming Queen of the Desert reveal that the icy Aussie is impossible to deal with. "For weeks, she kept rescheduling her voiceover work for the movie," discloses the spy. "She would change her plans last minute and waste a lot of people's time." And once Nicole actually did show up, she was less than professional, adds the industry insider: "She'd get frustrated while reading her lines, then refuse to read them again, like a child." And speaking of kids, she wouldn't leave hers alone, even if it meant delaying the entire shoot. "She literally called the nanny hourly to check on her daughters," grouses the source. "It really slowed down production and annoyed everyone." ★

A Simple Weight Loss Secret

"No matter what your goal, whether it's to lose a few pounds, or to completely transform your body, you can make it happen."

Sarah Evans, mother of 3, is living proof that having the body of your dreams is indeed achievable with even the busiest schedule.

Open any fitness magazine, or jump on social media, and you're bombarded with rock-hard abs, toned glutes and inspirational quotes telling you to sacrifice everything to attain your fitness goals. Instead of feeling inspired it can easily leave you feeling deflated. It's challenging balancing all of the responsibilities and priorities in your life and making room for your own fitness goals.

Here's the good news: Achieving a toned and healthy body is completely attainable, even for the busiest of us – you just need to know where to begin.

Before having my kids, I was never very active and I definitely wasn't into fitness. It took the birth of our third child to realize that fitness needed to become a part of my life, especially if I wanted to stay healthy and live a long, happy life. I know firsthand how challenging it can be to live an active lifestyle with the responsibility of having three kids. Sometimes I feel like there's just not enough time or energy in the day to get done all the things that I need to do, let alone take care of myself. I wake up early and exercise before getting the kids up for school. Some days my batteries are low and it's hard for me to find the energy and motivation to get my body

How One Fit Mom of 3 Got Her Body Back

"Supplements have played a big role in helping me achieve and maintain my health, energy and fitness. What I put in my body matters to me. That's why I've stuck with BPI products. They care about quality and I feel they care about their customer's results."

going. That is until I discovered Pre-workout supplements. The one I found in my local grocery store was called 1MR Vortex. It caught my attention because it called out the fact that it would fuel my workouts – and that's exactly what I needed! I mix one scoop of it in my bottle of water before I exercise – and it actually tastes really good. Not only did it give me the energy I was looking for, but I also started to lose weight faster and found myself getting more toned. After doing some research online I discovered that many of the key ingredients in the product had real weight loss benefits. Combining this, with eating better, I've been able to completely change my body.

No matter what your goal, whether it's to lose a few pounds, or to completely transform your body, you can make it happen. You make time for what's important. I wanted to feel comfortable and confident in my own skin, and I wanted to have the energy to keep up with my kids. In short, I wanted to enjoy my life. I've found that now, and if I can do it, then so can you:

Sarah & Freddie

SPLITTING UP?

She married a Prinze who has come to call the couch his throne.

WHEN Freddie Prinze Jr. recently sat down to brunch with his children — Charlotte, 6, and Rocky, 3 — at an L.A. restaurant, guests couldn't help but notice that the unshaven actor looked a mess. "Thankfully, the nanny was there to play with the kids," an eyewitness tells Star. "Freddie seemed out of it. He just looked so defeated." And Star can reveal the reason why: He and his wife of 13 years, Sarah Michelle Gellar, are struggling to keep their marriage alive. The trouble began last year when Freddie, 39, underwent spinal surgery. "Sarah took care of him when he couldn't get out of bed, but as time went on and his injuries healed, she noticed he was in no rush to return to work," says a source. "Since then, Freddie's grown content on the couch, playing video games instead of getting paid to voice them." However, the couple's October promo tour for Disney's animated series Star Wars Rebels (recorded prior to Freddie's health scare) provided the perfect opportunity to get him out of the house. Or so Sarah, 38, thought. "In the end, Freddie left her doing the whole thing on her own. That was it," says the pal. And when asked about her husband's attention-seeking tweet about having to learn how to walk again, Sara replied with a heavy sigh. "I can't even," she said. "He's fine! His [condition] has been greatly exaggerated." But with Freddie holding on tight to his new role as stay-at-home dad, friends worry where these two are headed. "They've been walking on thin ice for a while now," says the source, "and it seems like Sarah's ready to throw in the towel." ★

Matthew & Keri SECRET ENGAGEMENT

From playing a happy family to becoming one: At the start of the summer, Matthew Rhys moved in with Keri Russell and her kids, but sources tell Star the actor, 40, was looking to make things even more official. “Matthew asked Keri to marry him,” an insider reveals. “However, it wasn’t an immediate yes.” While the Americans costars are very much in love, Keri, 39, is still in the process of divorcing Shane Deary, with whom she shares Willa, 3, and River, 8. “She agreed to an unofficial engagement, which made sense since Matthew and Keri are such private people,” says the source. “Everybody assumed they would have kept the news a secret until after they ran off to the courthouse, but Matthew’s so happy he’s having a hard time not telling just about everyone.” ★

Morena Baccarin BREAKS DOWN

It should be happy days for Morena Baccarin, who’s five months pregnant with boyfriend Ben McKenzie’s baby. However, the actress, 36, was reduced to tears on Oct. 4 after an encounter with her estranged husband, Austin Clark, in L.A. turned ugly. “Morena was just dropping their son Julius [2] off at the house when Austin started an epic fight in front of all the neighbors,” an eyewitness tells Star. “She was screaming. He was shouting. Morena broke down in tears, followed by poor Julius, who watched the entire thing. It was a tearful, terrible mess.” While the couple recently settled their brutal custody battle — with Julius living in New York City with Morena, but regularly visiting his father, 41, in L.A. — it’s clear these two still have a long way to go. ★

Emma Offers Ryan A SHOULDER TO LEAN ON

At first, Emma Stone wasn’t all that surprised to see how stressed her La La Land costar Ryan Gosling seemed after the birth of his daughter, Esmeralda. “Emma thought that as a new dad, Ryan just needed to unwind, so she suggested a night out on the town,” says a source. However, as Star previously reported, Eva Mendes has been on the warpath since learning Ryan, 34, would be playing Emma’s love interest yet again. “He explained the situation to Emma and said he didn’t want Eva to misconstrue any time spent off-set together. He was already in enough trouble,” says the insider. “Emma offered to call Eva to try and smooth things over, but Ryan told her it was pointless.” Since then, sources say Emma, 26, has become a shoulder for Ryan to lean on as his relationship with Eva, 41, continues to unravel. Hey, girl, sounds like your plan is backfiring! ★

Mariah & James SHE WEARS THE PANTS

Baffled by Mariah Carey's relationship with billionaire businessman James Packer? So is Star. Especially because when it comes to love, the “#Beautiful” singer's reputation for being a domineering diva precedes her in that department as well! During the couple's red carpet debut on Sept. 21 at The Intern premiere in New York City, Mariah, 45, was overheard telling her boyfriend, 48, where to stand and when she wanted to be photographed alone. “Later that night, they went to Nobu for dinner — and Mariah ordered James' meal for him,” says a source. “That being said, James is forced to make important business decisions all day long, so I think he actually enjoys not having to take the lead in his personal life.” Whatever you say, honey! ★

Donnie & Jenny JUST FOR SHOW?

What do Jessica Simpson and Nick Lachey, Jon and Kate Gosselin and a slew of Real Housewives have in common?

Each serves as a cautionary tale to celeb couples to steer clear of reality TV! Unfortunately, it's a lesson Donnie Wahlberg and Jenny McCarthy are learning two seasons into A&E's Donnie Loves Jenny series. “They act very affectionate when the cameras are around — ironically, that's the only thing keeping them together,” one of Donnie's pals tells Star. Behind the scenes, Jenny, 42, and Donnie, 46, constantly bicker about what they expect of each other not only as partners, but as parents too. (A rep for the couple denies Star's story.) “Donnie is trying to be a good stepfather to Jenny's son, Evan [13], but she always undermines his efforts,” says the source. “She can act like a teenager herself sometimes, dying her hair hot pink and impulsively getting a tattoo. Donnie's tired of telling her to grow up.” ★

Sandra SPICING UP HER SEX LIFE

Never judge a book by its cover. That is, unless you catch Sandra Bullock flipping through a guide to getting it on! The actress, 51, was spotted reading up on tips to jumpstart her sex life at a Barnes & Noble in L.A. on Oct. 6, an eyewitness tells Star.

“The books were pretty visual,” says the source. “It was a mix of Kama Sutra guides and women's magazines.” Since ex-husband Jesse James' extramarital affairs came to light in 2010, the mother of two has long felt insecure when it comes to the bedroom, but pals say boyfriend Bryan Randall has changed all that. “Bryan really knows how to treat a lady, and Sandra's ready to reward his kindness — and patience — with a sexy night between the sheets,” says a friend. “She's even joked about how her high school cheerleading uniform might come in handy!” ★

Lamar's

FROM DIVORCING KHLOÉ KARDASHIAN TO LOSING HIS CAREER, STAR GOES INSIDE THE SAD SPIRAL THAT LED LAMAR ODOM DOWN THE DARK PATH THAT ENDED WITH HIS OVERDOSE.

TRAGIC DOWNFA

Blaming Herself

"Khloé is a mess," a hospital source reveals. "She hasn't left Lamar's side since she got here." A family insider adds that Khloé feels responsible for Lamar's overdose. "She rubbed her romances in his face, with other men to hurt him, and now she feels guilty," the insider says.

HIS HOSPITAL HOME

In the backs of their minds, everyone close to Lamar Odom had feared this day would come. And on Tuesday, Oct. 13, the news they'd been dreading arrived. The troubled ex-basketball star was found unconscious in a Nevada brothel following a three-day binge on cocaine, alcohol and herbal Viagra.

He was rushed to the hospital in nearby Las Vegas, where he remained, in a coma, for three days. He'd reportedly suffered multiple strokes, and some of his internal organs had been failing. Experts said he'd likely endured some brain damage, though the extent was unknown. According to an eyewitness at the hospital: "Lamar looked terrible. He had a bunch of tubes, wires and monitors hooked up to keep him alive."

Still, as his estranged wife, Khloé Kardashian, held constant vigil at his bedside, he showed some small signs of responsiveness and eventually, reportedly regained consciousness. An endless stream of visitors have made their way to Sunrise Medical Center to offer their support to the 35-year-old former NBA star, all hoping for a miracle recovery.

With a long, painful road ahead of him as he fights to regain his life, Lamar's stunned loved ones are left to meditate on how he got to this point. What could have happened to cause a beloved sports champion to turn down such a dark, tragic path?

WHAT WENT WRONG

Following a traumatic two years — during which Lamar separated from his wife after reportedly cheating with multiple women; was publicly revealed to be abusing hard drugs; buried two of his best friends; and failed to sign an NBA contract, essentially putting him out of work for the foreseeable future — Lamar was finally beginning to put the pieces of his life back together. He'd moved to Las Vegas to escape the intense glare of the media spotlight. He'd been working out, getting healthy and hoping for another chance at the NBA. But something happened to steer him off that positive path.

Star has learned that, in the five days leading up to Lamar's fateful stay at the Love Ranch in Crystal, Nevada, he'd dropped thousands of dollars at the Spearmint Rhino strip club, where sources say he "partied like a crazy man." "He was going through about $5,000 a day," a source at the establishment says. "He was making the girls drink and party with him. He asked for sexual favors, but a lot of the girls refused, so after a few days, he must have moved on to the ranch." ▶

LAMAR'S HIGHS AND LOWS THROUGH THE YEARS

Missing Mom and Dad

Lamar dealt with loss early on. His dad, Joe Odom, was a heroin addict who was largely "absent" from his son's life, and mom Cathy Mercer died of cancer when Lamar was only 12.

Talent Show

He turned to basketball to help him cope with his mother's death. Soon enough, the 6'10" teen became a star while playing for Christ the King High School in Queens, N.Y.

A New Family

At age 19, Lamar welcomed a baby girl, Destiny, with his high-school sweetheart, Liza Morales; three years later, Lamar Jr. joined their family. The couple had a third child, Jayden, in 2006, who died of Sudden Infant Death Syndrome at 6 months.

Continued

There, at the Love Ranch, eyewitnesses described him as appearing “broken,” “lost” and fixated on his ex-wife. He had, after all, been trying to win Khloé back, according to his friends. He and the reality star had continued to talk after they signed divorce papers this summer and had even reportedly secretly hooked up in a suburban love nest near his new home. But in August, when Lamar met Khloé outside a Soul Cycle class in Beverly Hills—a meetup, insiders say, the two exes had prearranged—the pair got into an argument, which reportedly caused Khloé to yell, “Get off of me, get off of me. Stop, stop.”

The confrontation led the media to brand Lamar a “stalker,” and instead of jumping to his defense, Khloé let the world believe that story. That’s when the usually soft-spoken sportsman began to unravel again, as he had, painfully, in 2013. “It absolutely destroyed him that after everything they had been through together, Khloé wouldn’t stand up for him,” says a friend of Lamar’s. “He had been doing so well...and then he just thought, ‘What’s the point?’”

Khloé, while outwardly supportive of Lamar throughout their marriage and even after their split, had been indirectly responsible for his decline. It was her reality TV lifestyle, complete with ever-present video cameras and unrelenting media scrutiny, that led him to a career slump and, ultimately, to depression. To make matters worse, Khloé’s recent communications with her ex had become a plot point on the latest season of her show, Keeping Up with the Kardashians. “Lamar had begged Khloé not to use his phone calls on the show. But she did it

A $75,000 LOST WEEKEND

When Lamar checked into Dennis Hof’s Love Ranch on Oct. 10, he thought he’d have a chance to relax. Inside, as the legal brothel’s general manager, T.J. Moore, recalls, Lamar napped, ate hearty steak meals and was entertained in his VIP suite up to six times a day by two call girls, Ryder Cherry (left) and Monica Monroe (right), whom he handpicked from a group of prostitutes—all to the tune of $75,000. He also opened up to mother figure T.J. about his struggles, from the recent deaths of his two best friends to his divorce. When Ryder and Monica found Lamar unconscious on Oct. 13, they were “inconsolable,” T.J. has said. “He was a really great guy. The girls have taken it hard.”

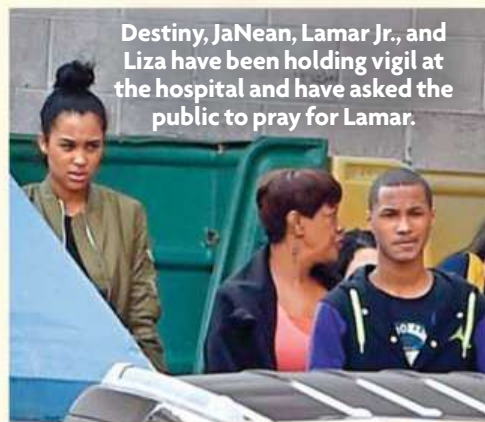

anyway,” the friend reveals. “He wanted to get back with her, but he started to feel like she was tricking him and using him.”

That realization, the insider says, “had him seriously down. Before his latest binge, he was practically suicidal.”

KHLOÉ’S ORDEAL

Of course, Khloé, 31, has publicly admitted many times since their split that she still loves Lamar—a sentiment she proved when she rushed to Sunrise Medical Center as soon as she heard about her ex’s condition, and she hasn’t left his bedside since. “She’s been crying nonstop and frantically pacing around in front of Lamar’s room when she’s not in there with Destiny, Ja’Nean, Lamar Jr., and Liza have been holding vigil at the hospital and have asked the public to pray for Lamar.

LAMAR’S HIGHS AND LOWS THROUGH THE YEARS

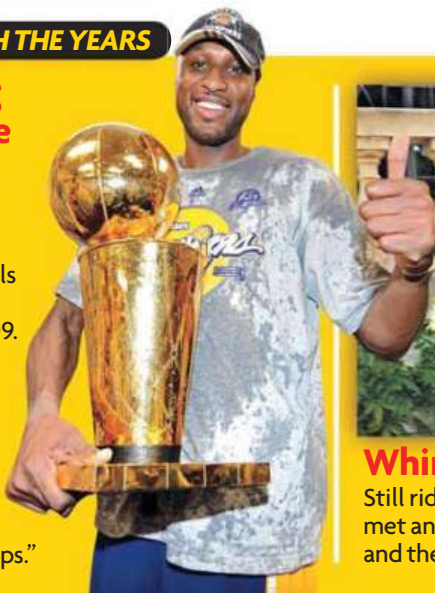

Draft King

In 1999, a few months after Destiny was born, the Los Angeles Clippers drafted Lamar into the NBA.

Winning The Title

He spent years honing his game and finally won the NBA Finals with the L.A. Lakers in 2009. Teammate Derek Fisher later called Lamar one of the “top reasons we won championships.”

Whirlwind Romance

Still riding high from the NBA title, Lamar met and fell for Khloé in August 2009—and they married one month later.

him,” the eyewitness at the hospital said during the first few days after his overdose. “I don’t know where she’s getting the energy from. She’s been wearing the same clothes for days now and is looking really sad and tired. I feel bad for her.”

Most of Khloé’s family — mom Kris and sisters Kourtney, Kim, Kendall and Kylie — have come to the hospital to support her and Lamar. But insiders say that a confrontation erupted when Khloé blamed her mom for keeping her and Lamar apart. “She told Kris that Lamar’s overdose is her fault,” the family insider revealed. “She never wanted to divorce him, which is why she stalled for years before signing the papers. But her mom told her she had to rip off the Band-aid and call it a day. Kris believed Lamar was damaging the Kardashian brand and practically forced Khloé into filing for the divorce.”

Moreover, another source claims that it was Kris who orchestrated a few high-drama encounters between the exes after their split in order to drum up ratings for their show. “Kris has continued to talk to Lamar, and she’s told him, ‘Khloé will never love anyone like she’s loved — and still loves — you,’” says a second Kardashian confidante. “And Kris would tell him to show up at a club or restaurant, saying he could talk to Khloé there, but when he’d get there they’d cause a huge scene and make a big deal of it on the show.” Episodes like that, the insider says, added to Lamar’s pain — giving Khloé more ammunition against her mom.

Deep down, though, Khloé really blames herself for Lamar’s tragic downfall. She thinks that if she had just stayed with him, she could have saved him from his demons. “She’s falling apart over the entire situation,” the source says. “This isn’t something she’s equipped for or has ever prepared herself to do.”

StarWorld Exclusive!

LAMAR’S FINAL DRUG DEAL

On Friday, Oct. 9, the day before Lamar arrived at the Love Ranch, he met with his longtime Las Vegas drug dealer — and Star has exclusive details of his massive cocaine purchase. “Lamar and his dealer, who’ve done business together since 2011, each drove to the parking lot of the South Strip Transfer Terminal. The dealer got into Lamar’s car at about 1:30 p.m.,” a source tells Star. “Lamar seemed like he was already messed up — he was sweaty and mumbling some of his words. At one point, he said, ‘No one cares if I’m dead or alive’ and added that he was going ‘all out’ that weekend.

“Lamar eventually paid $12,000 in cash — fifties and hundreds in a bank envelope — for 200 grams of cocaine,” the source adds. “The coke was handed over in a small Hermès shopping bag...and then Lamar was on his way.”

AN OUTPOURING OF SUPPORT

Lamar’s loved ones have been flocking to the hospital in droves. His dad, Joe, arrived the day after Khloé, and his children, Destiny and Lamar Jr., came later with their mom, Liza, and Lamar’s aunt JaNean. Friends have made appearances too. Lamar’s former Lakers teammate Kobe Bryant — who knew Lamar in high school — even left a game early to visit his old pal. “The halls are crowded with men, crying for him,” the hospital source says. And legions of NBA players and coaches have heralded Lamar in recent days for his unwavering kindness and generosity.

FAMILY MATTERS

Adding to Khloé’s stress is the fact that she’s responsible for making Lamar’s medical decisions. Even though the former couple signed their divorce papers in July, the courts haven’t processed the paperwork yet, so Khloé is still legally Lamar’s wife. Having his ex oversee such life-or-death matters might upset the rest of his family — namely, his children, Destiny, 16, and Lamar Jr., 13, both of whom flew in from New York with their mom, Liza Morales, and Lamar’s aunt ▷

Lamar’s relationship with dad Joe has been conflicted. “Lamar swears he inherited his dad’s weakness for drugs,” a source says.

Triumph To Tragedy

After another championship in 2010, Lamar earned the NBA’s prestigious Sixth Man of the Year Award for the 2011 season — but his celebration was short-lived; his cousin was murdered a few weeks later.

Beginning Of The End

In 2011, Khloé and Lamar launched their own reality show, but the ever-present cameras unnerved him...and his basketball career hit a slump. He was traded to the Dallas Mavericks in 2012.

A Public Unraveling

After several women claimed they carried on affairs with Lamar during his marriage to Khloé, the frustrated athlete lashed out at a photographer by smashing his car and taking his camera.

JaNeen Mercer. Likewise, Lamar's father, Joe Odom — who has publicly said that the Kardashians ruined his son's life — is in Las Vegas and may fight Khloé for control over Lamar's medical decisions.

Then there's Lamar's will, which sources say he hasn't updated since splitting from his wife two years ago — which means that, if the athlete did die, Khloé, would stand to inherit what's left of his fortune. Lamar was worth a reported $54 million at the height of his NBA career, but sources say he's squandered most of that in recent years and is now left with less than $5 million. Still, he allegedly has a sizable life insurance policy, worth a reported $10 million, with Khloé listed as the beneficiary. "If it comes to that, she would definitely take care of his kids," the family insider insists. "And even though she doesn't like his dad, she'd make sure Joe is taken care of too, out of respect for Lamar." Kris has apparently been consulting with lawyers for her daughter — as well as overseeing the press statements from both families, organizing visiting arrangements and taking care of all the other details — so Khloé, and even Lamar's other family members, can focus on Lamar.

As Khloé sits in the hospital, watching over the man she loves as he fights for his health, friends and family worry that she — like Lamar — won't be the same after this excruciating ordeal. Even if Lamar's condition does improve, he may never make a full recovery, and it's unclear if Khloé will stand by him along the long, painful road that lies ahead. ★

KARDASHIAN KURSE? THEIR M

SCOTT DISICK DRIVEN TO DRINK

WITHIN months of falling for Kourtney in 2006, Scott appeared on the Kardashian family's brand-new TV show, and quickly became a fan favorite for his comedic relief and hard-partying ways. But keeping up with his role in the Kardashian universe soon thrust Scott, 32, into a pit of substance abuse from which he struggled to emerge. At one point, a source says, "he got so deep into drugs, he would use them at all hours of the day and night. Sometimes he'd wake up and use during breakfast time."

Despite her family's adverse affect on his health, Scott and Kourtney continued their relationship for nine years, eventually welcoming three together, Mason, 5, Penelope, 3 and Reign, 10 months. But Kourtney, 36 — frustrated by Scott's antics — grew increasingly distant. "She would torment him by refusing to have sex," says the source. As a result, Scott reportedly cheated with several women, and his drinking became a plot point on the family TV show. Finally, this year, Kourtney left him. "He's just a laughingstock now," says the source. "He's famous for being a mess."

FROM ROMANCE TO REHAB!

The day after Lamar was hospitalized, it was announced that Scott had checked into rehab.

LAMAR'S HIGHS AND LOWS THROUGH THE YEARS

Hitting Rock Bottom

In August 2013, Khloé kicked Lamar out of their house amid reports that he'd been abusing hard drugs. A few days later, he was arrested for DUI. Lamar failed to get an NBA contract that season — and by December, Khloé had filed for divorce.

Double Dose of Loss

A New Hope

Determined to get his life back on track after his friends' deaths, a healthier-looking Lamar moved to Las Vegas and began working out regularly before his fateful days at the Love Ranch.

EN PAY A STEEP PRICE

KANYE WEST RECORD SALES TANKING

EVEN a superstar like Kanye began to fall after he hooked up with Kim. Once a well-respected and immensely successful rapper and producer, he's now recognized more for his public rants and questionable fashion sense than he is for making music — and Kim, 31, encourages his narcissistic outbursts. "When he married Kim, Kanye lost credibility," says a source. "He's turned into a joke, and he can't even see it." These days, the rapper, 38, can't even fill his concert venues. "It seems like the only time his songs make the charts is when he collaborates with Jay-Z or Paul McCartney," the source adds. "He's unreliable now and no longer respected for being a musician. Ultimately, people just don't like him."

Kim's previous husband, Kris Humphries (right), managed to escape the "kurse" by divorcing Kim after 72 days.

KIM'S A MAN EATER!

While married to Bruce, Kris ruled their home with an iron fist. "She controlled the money, all that kind of stuff," Caitlyn later said.

FAME OVER FAMILY!

CAITLYN JENNER NO LONGER A MAN!

LIKE Lamar, Bruce Jenner was a star athlete... before he met his third wife, Kris. But throughout their 23-year marriage, Kris mentally tormented him, putting him down and controlling every aspect of their lives — and things only got worse when she landed her TV show, Keeping Up with the Kardashians. By 2012, he'd become known not as an Olympic hero but as a henpecked reality TV husband. "She emasculated and humiliated him at every turn," says a source. "He was miserable and embarrassed to be treated like a child."

No one could have seen what was coming next: After leaving his wife of more than two decades, Bruce underwent a colossal transformation to become a woman. Now she lives as Caitlyn and has spoken out about her painful life with Kris. "A lot of times she wasn't very nice," Caitlyn, 65 said recently. "People would see how I got mistreated." She also believes that Kris, 59, used her as a meal ticket, then turned on her when she found fame. "When...she had her own money, she didn't need me as much," Caitlyn added. "She became less tolerant of me."

Kelly's COLD

THEY USED TO

First manager

Kelly was a perky high school cheerleader in New Jersey (right) when she was discovered by talent manager Cathy Parker (with Kelly, below, in the early '90s).

KELLY GETS FLOORED

A Star Is Born

Kelly was honored with a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame on Oct. 12.

SHOULDER

TV TALK SHOW TITAN KELLY RIPA JUST RECEIVED ONE OF THE HIGHEST HONORS IN SHOWBIZ — YEARS AFTER SHE CALLOUSLY ENDED HER FRIENDSHIPS WITH THE TWO WOMEN WHO FIRST GUIDED HER CAREER.

SOAP opera siren, sitcom star, reigning queen of the morning talk shows... Kelly Ripa has come a long way since her days as a little girl taking ballet lessons in her New Jersey hometown. And now the Live! with Kelly and Michael icon's show business ascent has been saluted with the recent presentation of her own star on the fabled Hollywood Walk of Fame.

But there's a sad chapter to Kelly's success story — and it involves the women who helped guide her career in its earliest stages. Sources claim Kelly, now 45, broke off her close friendships with both her first manager, Cathy Parker, and first agent, Barbara Andreadis, after she hit the big time.

"I've never seen a single interview where Kelly has mentioned Cathy or Barbara by name, or given them any credit or recognition for the professional guidance they gave her," says an insider. "It's as if they never existed, and it's incredibly disappointing that their relationships disintegrated to that degree."

A BEAUTIFUL BEGINNING

Kelly was a cheerleader at Eastern Regional High School in Voorhees, N.J., when she caught the eye of a family member of local talent manager Cathy Parker during her 1989 senior year. "Cathy eventually approached Kelly, and they hit it off immediately," a source has said. "She helped Kelly get professional acting lessons, and just a year into their relationship, Kelly landed her star-making role as Hayley Vaughan on All My Children." Adds the insider: "Since Kelly met her future hubby, Mark Consuelos, on the show, you could even say Cathy had a big hand in Kelly finding the love of her life."

Unfortunately, Kelly and Cathy's relationship later crashed to the point where they squared off in court after Kelly fired her in 1996 (Cathy eventually had to pay damages to the actress). "It was a miserable experience for all concerned," the source has said. "Along with their professional relationship, their personal friendship, which had been so strong in the years before, was finished as well. I don't think they ever spoke a word to each other afterward, even though Kelly used to say, 'If I ever win an Emmy, I want Cathy right there beside me.' Cathy always remained thrilled with Kelly's successes — but inside, she always felt a great deal of heartache over what she saw as Kelly turning her back on her."

Cathy hasn't been alone among Kelly's former business mentors in feeling that way: NYC-based agent Barbara Andreadis, was dropped after her contract expired. And while a rep for Kelly claims "there was never a personal relationship" between Ripa and either Parker or Andreadis, Barbara has said: "I also haven't heard from Kelly in quite a few years. It's unfortunate — she was as close to me as a daughter." ★

Love Connection

Kelly eventually met Mark Consuelos, her All My Children costar (and future husband), after Cathy helped her land a lead role on the soap opera in 1990. They wed in 1996 and have three children.

Drew's

$150 MILLION DIVORCE

AFTER THREE YEARS OF MARRIAGE AND TWO KIDS, THE ACTRESS AND HER ART ADVISOR HUSBAND CALL IT QUITS.

THOUGH known for her roller-coaster romantic record, Drew Barrymore seemed to have finally found The One in Will Kopelman. The two were friends for four years before becoming involved, and his tight-knit family, which warmly welcomed Drew, offered the stability the actress admittedly lacked growing up. With two adorable daughters to their credit and a shared worth of $150 million, the couple had it all, causing Drew to crow, "Marriage is great and the kids are the best!" Yet an insider tells Star the relationship is on the rocks — revealing that they are currently living apart and Drew, 40, has already met with her attorneys.

"They haven't stopped arguing for months," spills a source close to the troubled couple. "They hoped that separating might fix their marriage, but since things haven't improved, divorce is the only option that makes sense for them."

Home Alone

Drew and Will share this $8 million Hollywood Hills home — but are reportedly living apart now. In 2013, they sold the Montecito estate where they wed for $6.35 million.

She Bolted On Jeremy Thomas

HER HURRIED HUSBANDS

Drew's romantic history includes two blink-and-you-missed-them marriages. In 1994, after a broken engagement to actor/musician Jamie Walters, she wed Jeremy Thomas, owner of an L.A. bar, then left him after only 19 days. She next exchanged vows with comedian Tom Green — who called their five-month marriage a “crazy whirlwind of a time.”

She Outgrew
Tom Green

Coming Up Roses?

“Drew will be absolutely heartbroken when she realizes she can’t fix this,” says a source close to the Charlie’s Angels star. “She hates to fail, especially in relationships.”

ONCE

THEIR RACE TO THE ALTAR

“It was a combination of moments,” Will once said of how his love for Drew began and grew. “Watching her with my nephew. Traveling with her. Going to museums with her. I knew, adding them up, this was it.”

Yet the union may have been doomed to fail, since Drew and Will decided to wed after dating less than a year, when she got pregnant with daughter Olive, now 3. “All their friends and family thought they were moving too fast,” the insider says. “They ignored the concerns and were determined to prove everyone wrong.”

And so they tied the knot in a lavish yet low-key affair at Drew’s Montecito,

Calif., estate in front of such high-profile guests as Reese Witherspoon, Cameron Diaz and Jimmy Fallon. A second baby girl, Frankie, came along two years later, contributing to the couple’s public façade of bliss. Behind the scenes, however, Drew’s erratic behavior put the relationship through the wringer.

Drew herself has confessed to being “moody” and “hormonal,” but those in the know say her problems run much deeper than that. “Drew is a very extreme person; her feelings are so extreme,” another source close to Drew says. “If she loves something, she can’t pull away, but the second she gets bored, she’ll bail completely.”

Raised in a celebrity family and a child star since E.T., Drew entered drug rehab at age 14 and emancipated herself from her parents the following year. “Although she’s claimed to want a normal life, drama is in her blood,” points out Drew’s pal. “When things get too sedate, she goes crazy — and her unpredictable nature takes over.”

While Will, 37, an actor as well as an art consultant, is no stranger to the high life (his father, Arie Kopelman, is the former CEO of fashion and beauty empire Chanel; his sister is Jill Kargman, star of TV’s Odd Mom Out; and his clients include Zooey Deschanel and Robert Pattinson), he was by no means prepared for his wife’s wild ways. “Before Will married Drew, he never saw that side of her, but now he’s wondering how much he truly knows her,” says the source. “Drew can be a loving, caring person one minute and crying hysterically for no reason the next. Will never knows what to expect from her.”

The friend also intimates that Drew can be particularly demanding in the bedroom. “If he’s ever too tired to perform, Drew will start a massive fight,” the insider says. “All this drama is getting to be too much for Will — and he’s putting his foot down.”

THEIR STRUGGLE FOR STABILITY

Drew, who has been married briefly twice before (see Her Hurried Husbands), is loath to get divorced again. “Drew hates to admit defeat; she’s desperate to make this work,” says her friend. “She’s promised Will that she’ll change her behavior and stop picking fights — and she has been trying.” Will was making an effort, too, and over the summer, the couple traveled together to France for Drew’s latest business venture, Barrymore Wines.

But their time abroad couldn’t reignite the spark, and when they attended the season opener of the Metropolitan Opera in New York on Sept. 21, photos of the duo had them looking awkward and unsmiling.

Still, the couple hasn’t officially called it quits yet — and Drew is still wearing her wedding ring. They hope to avoid an ugly custody battle as well as a war over wealth (of which Drew earned the lion’s share — Will is worth $5 million). Married in a Jewish ceremony, they had a ketubah (the Jewish prenuptial agreement), but so far no financial prenup has come to light. “If they go through with this, it will be very costly and could leave their kids heartbroken,” says the source. “Right now, everyone is rooting for them, but it looks like only a miracle will save this marriage.”

“The custody battle could get really ugly,” says a source. Drew (seen here with daughters Olive, 3, and Frankie, 1) “would never go down without a nasty fight.”

Secrets of CELEBRITY

YOU DON'T NEED TO BE A STAR TO GET A STELLAR WORKOUT. THREE OF HOLLYWOOD'S TOP TRAINERS SHARE THE TIPS THEY TELL THEIR HOT-BODIED CLIENTS.

Jessica Simpson

HARLEY PASTERNAK

Smartwater Ambassador & Celebrity Trainer. Clients include Jessica Simpson, Ariana Grande and Rihanna.

SECRET #1: "I spent years training my clients on the elliptical and the treadmill because they're cardio. I've completely changed my tune. I've given them all a Fitbit, kicked them out of the gym and said, 'Get at least 10,000 steps today. Between sitting at our computers and in our cars, we're not moving. The average American gets 5,000 steps a day, but all the skinny people in Scandinavia, Japan, Australia and Switzerland are taking 11,000 steps a day.'"

SECRET #2: "Stay hydrated. Bodies are two-thirds water, and muscles are 75 percent water. When we're dehydrated, it impacts our muscles' ability to contract and our endurance."

SECRET #3: "Focus on the posterior muscles of your body. Quite often, we focus on what we see in the mirror and we tend to create a muscle imbalance. We do too many crunches, too many push-ups, too many squats, and we end up with these very anterior-dominant muscles...and poor posture gives the illusion of having a shorter midsection."

"You don't need to train long. You need to train smart."

— Harley Pasternak

TRAINERS!

MIKE DONAVANIK

Clients include Rumer Willis, Jayson Blair and Jeremy Jordan.

SECRET #1: "Focus more on strength training but in a circuit format. You need to do exercise after exercise with minimal rest to get the added perk of cardio while strength training."

SECRET #2: "Stay away from 45-minute to hourlong cardio sessions — try not to do steady-state cardio. Instead, make them short bursts. So if you have only 30 minutes, make sure you alternate between sprints. Instead of using the StairMaster or walking or jogging, go for a one-minute sprint — on whatever piece of equipment — and then take a two-minute jogging or active recovery. Then go again for another minute, as hard as you possibly can."

SECRET #3: "Women shouldn't be afraid to lift heavy weights. You'll build more muscle, burn more calories, burn more fat. The misconception is that women should lift lighter weights to stay toned, but in actuality, you need to lift heavy weights in order to see heavy change."

JOEY GONZALEZ

Celebrity Trainer & CEO of Barry's Bootcamp. Clients include Naomi Watts, Nina Agdal and Jake Gyllenhaal.

SECRET #1: "Instead of weighing yourself, pay attention to how your clothes fit and make sure you look at yourself in the mirror every day — naked — and deal with what you look like."

SECRET #2: "Always do a combination of cardio and strength training. Most clients tend to favor one over the other."

The average woman who exercises does 30 minutes of cardio each time she exercises and, oftentimes, no strength training."

SECRET #3: "When you do cardiovascular, make it high intensity interval training (HIIT). It focuses on fat burning rather than steady cardio, which will burn your muscle."

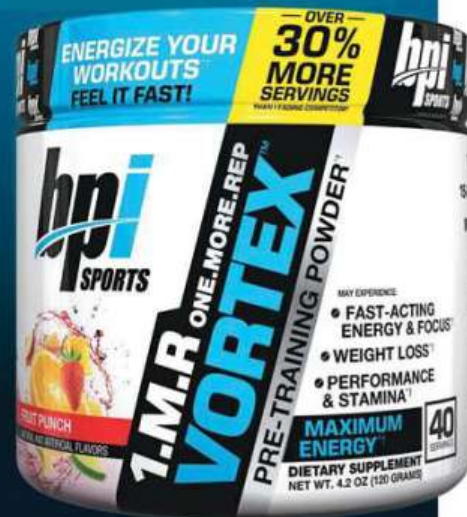

Naomi Watts

"Always do 30 minutes of cardio and 30 minutes of strength training."

— Joey Gonzalez

PREWORKOUT POWER-UP

Nothing builds up the appetite like a workout, but too many of us neglect to fuel up before we hit the gym. Maybe you've tried homemade smoothies or even a protein shake prior to exercising, but consider incorporating an extra boost to power through those last few reps or sprints. Enter 1.M.R. Vortex pretraining powder. Mix one scoop of this specially formulated dietary supplement into an eight-ounce drink of your choice 15 to 30 minutes before a workout, and you'll feel stronger, more energized and more focused while you sweat. It can even help you tone up and lose weight faster than you would with regular diet and exercise. The best part? Unlike so many supplements, 1.M.R. Vortex actually tastes good (we swear). Try it before your next workout! Available at Walmart, GNC and bodybuilding.com.

Party Of Three

Since gaining custody of baby August in July, Charlize has largely remained out of the public eye to focus on her growing family.

PROUD SINGLE MAMA! THE ACTRESS ADOPTS A SECOND CHILD IN THE WAKE OF HER SPLIT FROM SEAN PENN.

Charlize's

NEW BABY GIRL!

IT'S been more than two months since Charlize Theron adopted a U.S.-born baby girl, and it seems she's finally ready to show her off to the world! Last week, the Academy Award-winning actress, 40, was spotted cradling August, her newest bundle of joy, while dropping her 3-year-old son, Jackson, whom she adopted from South Africa in 2012, off at school.

Although the actress initially planned to adopt a second child with ex-boyfriend Sean Penn, a source claims she was determined to become a mother of two even after they split up in June. "Having Jackson really softened Charlize and made her more tender and compassionate, and now with August as part of the family, she feels complete," continues the pal. "Her friends constantly joke about how she's turned to mush — she can't stop kissing and cuddling her little girl."

And luckily, big brother feels the same way! To make sure that Jackson never felt jealous of the new baby, Charlize was reportedly very careful to involve him in every step of the adoption process and answer any questions he had along the way. "It obviously worked, because Jackson absolutely adores little August," reveals the source. "He sings to her and wants her to watch cartoons with him, even though she's too little to know what's going on." ★

Jackson is happily adjusting to his new gig as big brother.

Warrior WORKOUTS

BUILD A STRONG BODY AND MIND

Getting into shape not only helps you look your best but makes you feel empowered too. As we prepare for the hectic holiday months, regular workouts and mindful eating can help to keep you strong physically and mentally so that you can handle any stress that comes your way. Switching up the type of exercise you do is a great way to stay motivated and work different muscle groups.

Try yoga to strengthen your core, improve your flexibility and focus your mind. Taking a few minutes each day to incorporate these moves will ensure that when it comes time to slip into that LBD, you'll feel fit and fabulous!

THE EXPERT NORA TOBIN

Nutrition and performance-enhancement specialist, health and fitness director for Four Seasons and contributing editor to Shape.

NUTRITION TIP

Refuel after exercise! For a good source of protein postworkout, snack on Wonderful Pistachios, one of the lowest-fat, lowest-calorie (and tastiest!) nuts around!

REVERSE WARRIOR

Step 1 Begin in Warrior II, with left leg in front, knee bent. Lower right hand to right leg, then slide it down toward your ankle.

Step 2 Turn left palm toward the sky and arch left arm up overhead, reaching back behind you, without moving your legs. Turn gaze upward. Hold for five deep breaths.

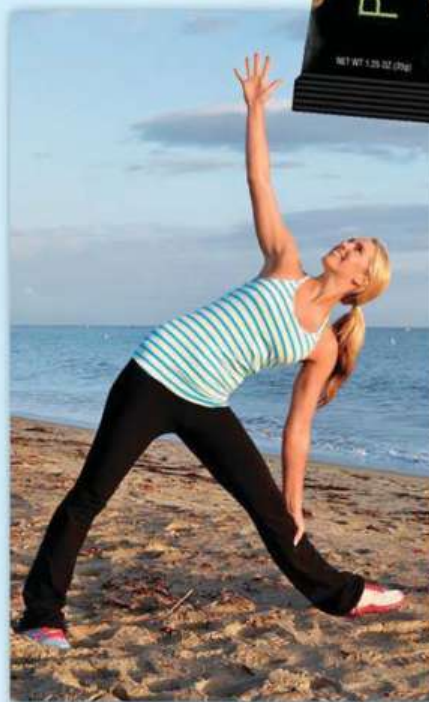

Step 3 Lower left arm and lift right arm until both are at shoulder height, palms facing down, returning to Warrior II. Switch sides and repeat.

Step 1 Place all of your weight on your right foot. Deeply bend right knee and place left ankle on top of thigh. Shift hips backward and drop down as if sitting in a chair.

Step 2 Maintain knee behind toes and keep chest lifted. Hold for five deep breaths on each side.

TRIANGLE

Step 1 Stand with feet wider than hips. Turn right foot in and left foot outward 90 degrees.

Step 2 Exhale and extend torso to the left (directly over left leg). Keep right leg engaged and press outer heel firmly to the ground.

Step 3 Rest left hand on left shin or ankle and stretch right arm toward the sky. Keep head in a neutral position.

Step 4 Take five deep breaths.

Jessica Chastain

The redheaded beauty gets creepy in a visually stunning Victorian-era haunted house movie, Crimson Peak.

"The Exorcist really terrified me. I remember crawling into the fetal position on the couch when I first saw it," says Jessica about scary movies. "I mean, that and Jaws!"

AS one of the most dynamic actresses of her generation, Jessica Chastain has taken on everything from a hard-charging CIA agent in Zero Dark Thirty to a 1960s Southern belle in The Help; but she really takes a stretch in the eerily spooky Gothic ghost story Crimson Peak, directed by visionary Guillermo Del Toro, in which she gets downright sinister. She plays Lucille, the mysterious sister of a man (Tom Hiddleston) who brings his new wife (Mia Wasikowska) to their very haunted ancestral home. Jessica, 38, spoke about her latest role and the challenges of portraying such a dark character.

Was it fun making this movie?

It wasn't fun! I really underestimated the toll that this character was going to take on me. When I finished, I was supposed to do another film, but I had to take time off — I was so depleted. Learning Chopin on the piano for someone who has never played... There was never "Oh, this is a fun light day." Every day was so intense.

Jessica alongside Tom Hiddleston as siblings who protect the secrets of their haunted family mansion in the English countryside.

Is Lucille evil?

She's definitely the darkest character I've ever played. I wanted to play her because I wanted to understand why she does the things she does, and it actually kinda broke my heart, because I found that every act that she commits in this movie is to try to give and to receive love.

Did you hang out much with the rest of the cast?

It wasn't a lot of on-set shenanigans or partying, because it was really exhausting and difficult. I'm not someone who has birthday parties, but I was just so sad from playing this woman that I had about 12 people from all over the United States fly to Toronto for the weekend of my birthday. It was amazing and really special, and they completely brought sunshine with them!

What did you enjoy most about your role as Commander Lewis in the new blockbuster The Martian?

I think young girls are going to see it and not say that they want to be an astronaut but say that they want to be the commander. And it's not a strange thing to think of being a female commander because it's right there, so hopefully the film goes well and it'll be part of the conversation that girls will be excited about science. ★

OUR CAN'T-MISS ENTERTAINMENT PICKS

this week!

MOVIE Jem And The Holograms 2

Loosely based on the popular '80s cartoon about a female rock star/crime fighter, this new movie shares very little of the same premise. Instead, Aubrey Peeples plays Jerrica/Jem, the bedazzled lead singer of a pop band that becomes an Internet sensation. But when her record company — headed by a nefarious Juliette Lewis — persuades Jem to drop her best friends to go solo, drama and a few tears ensue. Oct. 23

TV Wicked City 3

It's 1982, and in a sex-, drugs- and synth-rock-fueled Los Angeles, a serial killer (Ed Westwick) is targeting young women drawn to the City of Angels. He soon finds a potential partner in crime (Erika Christensen) while two detectives (Jeremy Sisto, Gabriel Luna) take on the case. Tuesday, Oct. 27, at 10PM on ABC

TV Fifth Annual American Humane Association Hero Dog Awards 5

Dogs really are man's best friend, and this awards show, cohosted by Beth Stern and James Denton, celebrates loyal canines from every four-legged walk of life — including military, guide, service and search-and-rescue dogs that have selflessly saved lives and inspired hearts in the past year. Friday, Oct. 30, at 8PM on The Hallmark Channel

MUSIC Storyteller

Country music superstar Carrie Underwood describes her latest release as having a fresh twang. The tracks certainly are personal, including the heartfelt ballad "Heartbeat," "The Girl You Think I Am" — a song she cowrote about what she wants her dad to think of her — and "What I Never Knew I Always Wanted," a lullaby to her 7-month-old son, Isaiah. Oct. 23

MOVIE Burnt

In this foodie drama, Bradley Cooper plays a brilliant and hard-charging chef who's also an out-of-control drug addict. When he loses his restaurant he travels to London to rehabilitate his career and his life on a quest to open a restaurant in Paris and earn three Michelin stars. Oct. 23

→ SUFFRAGETTE

If you look at photographs from 1910–1920 showing the struggle for women to earn the right to vote known as the suffrage movement, it all seems so quaint and old-fashioned. But director Sarah Gavron's drama shows just how tough and violent it actually was. Set in London during and after World War I, it follows Maud Watts (Carey Mulligan), a young laundress fed up with being mistreated in the workplace as she slowly becomes drawn into the battle for "votes for women." Her inspiration is early feminist Emmeline Pankhurst, played by Meryl Streep

(who turns up in one rousing scene), and her comrades in the struggle are played by Helena Bonham Carter, Romola Garai and Anne-Marie Duff. It's shocking to see a line of club-swinging London cops wade into a crowd of protesting women, but these events actually happened — and the echoes of continuing liberation movements of today are striking.

LONG STORY SHORT:

Hear them roar!

MOVIES

→ ROCK THE KASBAH

Bill Murray stars in this disappointing comedy about down-on-his-luck rock-music manager Richie Lanz, who jumps at a chance to take one of his acts on tour. One problem: The tour is of military bases in Afghanistan and the singer bails before the first show, leaving Richie stranded with no money or passport. But he thinks he's broken his losing streak when he hears a local girl sing and decides to enter her in Afghan Star, an American Idol copicat. Murray remains one of the funniest, most unpredictable talents out there, but writer Mitch Glazer's fish-out-of-water-and-in-Afghanistan script is laugh-impaired and predictable, and director Barry Levinson and Murray can never get any comic traction. While Murray barely keeps his head above water, costars Bruce Willis and Kate Hudson sink under their load of lame lines.

LONG STORY SHORT: Unfortunately, it never really rocks.

→ I SMILE BACK

Dark and brooding, this tale of a privileged suburban housewife with addiction problems gives the normally outrageous comedian Sarah Silverman the most demanding role of her acting career. She plays Laney, a woman with the seemingly perfect life: a successful husband (Josh Charles), two cute kids and a beautiful house. But she's sleeping with her husband's best friend (Thomas Sadoski) — and she has a particularly warm acquaintance with pills, cocaine, alcohol and anonymous sex in alleys. Silverman captures that peculiarly vicious blend of insecurity, self-destruction, fondness for danger and lack of impulse control that defines this character's downward spiral. Like all addicts, she assumes she can control her appetites, just before they take control of her. It's a searing portrayal of a woman who seems to throw away everything she holds most dear, and Silverman reveals previously unseen depths. You'll root for her, but it's an uphill climb.

LONG STORY SHORT: A tough tale of one woman's battle with her own demons.

→ HOW TO DANCE IN OHIO

Premieres Monday,
Oct. 26, at 9PM, on HBO

This documentary is alternately the most heartbreaking and uplifting film you're likely to see this year. Filmmaker Alexandra Shiva embedded herself with a community center in Columbus, Ohio, devoted to teens and young adults on the high-functioning end of the autism spectrum. She follows three young women who regularly participate at the center as they prepare themselves for a spring formal dance. Each of these ladies will touch you in a different way, as they labor (with the help of the center's marvelous counselors) to ready themselves for the kind of teen coming-of-age ritual that comes naturally to most people. Their parents seem startlingly resilient and upbeat, cheerleaders for children who have challenges few of us would want to take on or could manage nearly as gracefully.

UPDATE

THE 5 HOTTEST ANTI-AGING SECRETS FOR FALL

Growth Hormone: The Long-Awaited “Fountain of Youth”?

Everybody's talking about human growth hormone (hGH). It's been featured on The Doctors, The Today Show, Good Morning America, Fox News, and CNN. Allure magazine, in its “Anti-Aging Special” issue, highlighted growth hormone as its year-end call-out. Shape magazine began a recent growth hormone article with the provocative lead in: “When you see a 50-year-old actress who can pass for 35, you can bet that good genes aren't the only things responsible for her youthful glow.” But when the internationally famous TV host himself told his audience about an oral compound that's been proven to increase mean, serum (blood) growth hormone levels by 682% and said, “I have been searching for this from the day we started the show. I've been looking for ways of increasing hGH naturally because I don't like getting the injections...” OMG!

Almost immediately, this underground “miracle pill” became a full-blown “anti-aging” phenomenon. The compound is being sold under the trade name SeroVital®-hgh, and it's quickly gaining an almost “cult-like” following because, let's face it... something that just may have the power to reduce wrinkles, tighten saggy skin, decrease body fat, increase lean muscle mass, boost energy, rev up sex drive, and make you look and feel decades — not years, but DECADES — younger is, at the very least, irresistible... especially when it's protected by not one but ten U.S. Patents.[‡] But is there a catch? Get all the facts at SeroVital.com. SeroVital is currently available at all Ulta stores, Kohl's, select GNC locations and direct from the manufacturer at 1-800-500-9817 or SeroVital.com. Use promo code HGH348 and get free shipping.[†]

The European Wrinkle Pill!

The one compound cosmetic companies don't want you to know about

Have you ever noticed how topical cosmetic skin creams always talk about improving the "appearance" of the skin or "visibly" reducing wrinkles? They all contain wussy "appearance" qualifiers, because none of them can claim they change the skin's structure (not even Estee Lauder or La Mer with its $300 wrinkle cream, just to mention two). That's why a revolutionary new "anti-wrinkle" compound called UniLastin is causing such a stir. This oral compound has the power to make your skin younger. Not younger looking... actually younger. We're talking about rebuilding your skin, making it thicker and more dense (think less likely to wrinkle and sag), even decreasing wrinkles... not merely the "look" of wrinkles, but literally decreasing their depth, thereby actually smoothing the skin as it improves the underlying cellular matrix. There's not a single cosmetic moisturizer, serum, or cream out there that can make those kinds of claims. And because UniLastin works systemically (throughout the entire body), it's able to improve the skin everywhere, from the face, neck and décolleté to crepey arms, loose abdominal skin... even buttock sag and elbow wrinkles. It's sort of like a facelift for your whole body... from the end of your nose to the tips of your toes! This unique, total body, anti-wrinkle complex is called UniLastin™, and it's available exclusively at UniLastin.com or by calling 1-800-404-1918 (promo code AGEPIILL23 gives you free shipping†). About $79.

Can't Sleep?

It might be Stress Related Sleep Disorder™ (SRSD)

On any given evening, more than 100 million Americans have a hard time getting a good night's sleep. And almost half of those people can't fall asleep or stay asleep because of stress and something we call Stress Related Sleep Disorder (SRSD). What's worse, when you don't get enough sleep you become more stressed, and a vicious cycle begins. Ultimately, the results can be the classic signs of getting older: fatigue, lack of focus, irritability, poor memory, and moodiness.

Unfortunately, many of us are taking the wrong kind of sleeping pill... one that does little or nothing to combat SRSD but can leave you feeling "hungover" in the morning. But all that's changing thanks to Relacore Deep Sleep. It's the first and only sleep aid specifically developed to break the sleep-stress cycle... and it's helping Americans fall asleep quickly and wake up rested and ready to take on your day. If you're ready to finally get some sleep contact Carter-Reed at 1-800-648-5632 or online at www.RelacoreSleep.com. Use promo code SLEEP22 and get free shipping.†

NEW Probiotic • Weight Loss

TruBioTrim

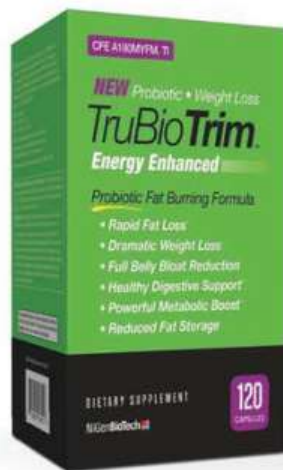

Energy Enhanced

Probiotic Fat Burning Formula

What does adding a few pounds have to do with aging? Everything! Those additional pounds of figure-destroying fat can make you look 10 years older... or more. Here's a smart solution. It's called TruBioTrim™... the all new energy enhanced, probiotic fat burning formula everyone is talking about.

TruBioTrim will help you lose weight so you look thinner, tighter and younger, but TruBioTrim also helps reduce belly bloat, increase metabolic rate, burn fat, provide digestive support... and give you all the youthful energy you need to get through the day.

The bad news... TruBioTrim will not be available in stores until January 15, 2016 (when it gets there, reach for the bright green box, and do not accept substitutes or look alikes). Till then, you can order online at TruBioTrim.com or by calling 1-800-463-7764. A full 30-day supply is only $59 (use promo code TRU14 and shipping is free†).

Serious Dark Spots?

[don't try to hide them]

FIX THEM!

Nothing screams your "real" age louder than those telltale age spots. Bremenn Clinical (a company that's spent years researching pigment-correcting formulations like the world famous "Serious Dark Circles" cream, Hylexin®) has the solution. It's called, what else, Bremenn Clinical's Dark Spot Eraser.™ Dark Spot Eraser contains a powerful combination of super-effective skin lighteners and pigmentation modifiers that not only helps reduce the appearance of existing dark spots, but also addresses the appearance of future spot emergence, making it the ultimate solution for even the most serious dark spots. So don't try to hide those serious dark spots... fix them with Bremenn's Dark Spot Eraser. Available at Kohl's and smarter retailers nationwide, or directly from Bremenn Clinical at 1-800-215-8507 or BremennClinical.com. Use promo code Darkspot89 and get free shipping.†

By Jennifer Angel

SCORPIO OCT. 23–NOV. 21

It's time to let go of the past. If you're in a relationship and need to kiss and make up, go for it. When you meet the right people, it can help both your personal life and career. Get out and socialize.

SAGITTARIUS NOV. 22–DEC. 21

If your productivity level needs an overhaul, the full Moon can help. Your career is on fire now, so be ready to take advantage of opportunities. Love can change; be ready to compromise.

CAPRICORN DEC. 22–JAN. 19

Travel is in the stars! If you can learn a new skill to enhance your work life, it will pay off. An intense love connection could take you by surprise.

AQUARIUS JAN. 20–FEB. 18

Your career gets a boost, but don't try to do everything yourself. You'll get more satisfaction and success from teamwork. In love, plan a passionate rendezvous.

PISCES FEB. 19–MARCH 20

If you're looking for love, a soul mate can cross your path. For couples, when love is right, don't wait; take your relationship to the next stage. Money news is positive.

ARIES MARCH 21–APRIL 19

Focus on work, but don't spend every hour at the office. Book a pampering session — you deserve it! A situation at work can help to boost your cash flow.

TAURUS APRIL 20–MAY 20

Full Moon energy can bring a difficult situation to a resolution. It's time to forgive and forget or move on. The Sun shines on your love life. Singles may experience a soul connection.

GEMINI MAY 21–JUNE 20

Your intuition is hot; pay attention to its messages. And take notice of chance meetings, as someone you cross paths with can favorably influence your career. A development at home or with family can work to your advantage at the office.

CANCER JUNE 21–JULY 22

A friend from the past may reappear; if you have unfinished business, the full Moon gives you a chance to talk it out. Step up and say how you feel — but in a sensitive way. Work can be stressful, but any bumps will eventually smooth out.

LEO JULY 23–AUG. 22

If there's a situation you need to deal with, this is the moment to take charge. Jupiter, Venus and Mars in your money zone show an increase in cash flow but also the temptation to spend. In love, be careful not to be possessive.

VIRGO AUG. 23–SEPT. 22

Life takes on a new direction, but it may be necessary to let go of the past to be able to open up to the future. Stay optimistic and make every thought a positive one. If you're looking for love, you have the power to attract it now.

LIBRA SEPT. 23–OCT. 22

Mercury in your sign helps you to know what you want and speak from the heart. If someone has been supportive, especially with money, be careful to give in return to avoid resentment later.

EXPERT

Simon Marcel Badinter

Host of radio relationship talk show Rendezvous with Simon Marcel and Kim Iverson

Is it OK to post about your relationship on social media?

Sharing images should be done in moderation! If you're uploading too many pics, your dates will be at the mercy of your followers' reactions. Posting about romantic gestures can be very positive but can still become obsessive if it involves you craving an emotional response or validation from your friends in the form of a Like.

What is the best way to get over your ex?

Detox from your past relationship in a healthy way: Cut all contact. Each day that passes without any communication with your ex is a victory. It takes time...and progress is made when you can have positive thoughts and feelings about the good times you once had.

Is age really just a number when it comes to relationships?

True love is not sensitive to age difference. My parents have a 17-year age gap — I was always told that as long as the couple are happy and they are clear on what they want together, the age difference is not important.

Newlyweds Johnny Depp and Amber Heard have a 23-year age gap.

The Star Wars Lightsaber Legacy Lamp

Your Weapon of Choice

For Jedi and Sith alike, the lightsaber is the signature tool that marks a true master of the Force. Now, the lightsabers used by the Skywalker family inspire The Star Wars™ Lightsaber Legacy Lamp, available exclusively from The Bradford Exchange.

The elegant sculptural base presents the lightsabers wielded by two generations of Skywalkers in a legacy of power and heroism. The handles are finished in the gleaming silver and black of the original designs while the signature colored "blades" illuminate above. A custom cloth lampshade features handsome artwork of favorite characters and iconic ships by famed Star Wars™ artist Steve Anderson. A standard lightbulb controlled by a switch provides additional illumination.

Strong demand expected: Order now!

The Star Wars™ Lightsaber Legacy Lamp comes with a 365-day money-back guarantee and is issued in a strictly limited edition. Secure yours now. Quantities going fast! SCORING MOSTLY As: Halloween is a treat for you, because you never lose sight of the fun that children have on this day! You believe that there is more to All Hollows Eve than pranks and ghosts. You go easy on the decorating and eating sweets and tend to choose lighthearted costumes that bring out the smiles.

MOSTLY Bs: You're a Halloween prankster! You count on Oct. 31 as a whole day to be naughty — whether it's a sly tease or a full-out prank. Ghoulish figures, witches, horror films and things that send shivers down the spine are perfect for the thrill seeker in you!

SUDOKU

THE HOT NEW PUZZLE THAT'S SWEEPING THE COUNTRY!

HERE'S HOW TO PLAY

★ The goal is to use every number from 1 to 9 without repeating that number in any column across, row down or within any 3x3 block.

★ There's no math involved — no need to count or add up.

★ Just use logic to solve the puzzle.

* Really?

It's Britney's new house, bitch, and she plunked down $7.5 million for this Italian-style villa that boasts 35-foot vaulted ceilings and a two-story entryway.

Britney's PALATIAL ESTATE

The 3,500-bottle, temperature-controlled wine cellar.

The massive kitchen has so much mahogany, Ron Burgundy would be thrilled!

Fore! The 21-acre manse boasts an infinity pool, a spa and a three-hole golf course.

ST. VINCENT

Will Take Your Order

She's not shooting a video! St. Vincent — alt rock musician and Cara Delevingne's on-again girlfriend — made a cameo appearance as a waitress at Resident Taqueria, her sister Amy's new Mexican restaurant in Dallas. "I had just flown in and went to the restaurant to hang out," she says. "We saw tables that needed to be cleared, so I got a towel and got to work. Amy and I are both pretty type A, get-it-done people!"

Chris Hemsworth's UN-CHARMING SNAKES

AHHHHH!

Hunky Thor star Chris Hemsworth barely batted an eye while taking a selfie with one huge and very scary-looking snake that slithered around his backyard Down Under. In his inaugural Instagram post he wrote, "Hangin' with the locals in my backyard... the real Jurassic Park!" Crikey!

MARK & JARED'S COMIC-CON... CON

INSTAGRAM/@MARKRUFFALO

WHO were those masked men? At New York's Comic Con, thousands of fans stood shoulder to shoulder with Mark Ruffalo, who plays The Hulk in the blockbuster Avengers movies, which are pretty much the holy grail of geekdom. But the supernerds had no idea they were right next to a superhero because he showed up with his son, Keen, in a Luigi mask from Super Mario Brothers. Jared Leto was also there. And while his role as the Joker won't even be on screens until next summer's Suicide Squad is released, it's so highly anticipated that dozens of fans are already cosplaying his character! Too bad the clueless clown above didn't recognize the Oscar-winning actor, who went incognito as Rafiki from The Lion King and tweeted this pic saying, "He had no idea. :)"

Star WEEKLY AWARDS

We round up the week's best, worst and downright strange.

* Biggest Diva

It certainly takes a lot to impress Shania Twain these days. According to her Rock The Country tour rider, the singer demands seven humidifiers, six vegetarian meal options, three bouquets of white or cream roses and at least one citrus, lavender or grapefruit-scented candle in every room of her hotel suite.

CHOICE!

Blake Shelton @blakeshelton · Oct 12
Thank goodness #Gandhi was there to help you make that decision, @gwenstefani #AdamsBald

Adam Levine @adamlevine · Oct 12
Excuse me. Lex Luthor was bald. I have "shaved" my head. Meaning, shaved by choice. Big difference. Ok?!! Ok?!!

* Worst Haircut

Hair today, gone tomorrow. Adam Levine almost broke the Internet — but not in a good way — when he debuted his freshly shaven head on The Voice. Fellow coach Blake Shelton even poked fun, starting the hashtag #AdamsBald.

NICE
TRY!

* MOST BACKHANDED SUPPORT

After Blake Lively shut down her lifestyle site, Preserve, frequent frenemy Martha Stewart remarked, "Listen, she's a movie actress. Maybe you can't do everything at the same time."

GRAB

* Friskiest Fan

Blondes really do have more fun! Penélope Cruz, sporting a wig and bunny ears, joined U2 onstage in Barcelona before hopping on top of the band's frontman, Bono.

* Darkest Confession

Travis Barker opened up about his drug addiction in his new memoir, Can I Say. "My breakfast was four blunts, four Vicodin, one Valium and one oxycodone," he revealed. "I had a security [guard who] would actually sleep during the day and then stay up at night to make sure I was breathing."

Crazy.

15 POTATO CHIPS

- 160 calories
- 2 grams protein
- 1 gram fiber

Wrap your noggin around this: a heaping helping of pistachios has the same calories as a handful of potato chips. Pistachios are naturally cholesterol and trans fat free, a good source of protein and fiber, and heart-friendly. A recent Harvard study also suggests that eating nuts seven times a week or more is as healthy as it is smart. Which makes pistachios the sane choice when it comes to snacks.

Scientific evidence suggests but does not prove that eating 1.5 ounces per day of most nuts, such as pistachios, as part of a diet low in saturated fat and cholesterol may reduce the risk of heart disease.
